

Capriccio Italiano

The Opera Revue

Italian opera music, like no other, has shaped our image of the tenor. Capriccio Italiano and its soloists embark on a fascinating journey through two centuries of Italian musical history. Led by the artistic director Luca Artioli, the show consists of virtuosic singing and playing. The journey stretches from the 19th century into present times. This excursion gathers all the precious treasures that have conquered the world. Like an elegant beaded necklace, the great opera stands equally next to Neapolitan Romances, Italian film music and classical pop songs.
